

A black and white line drawing of a garden scene. In the center, a large, stylized flower with many petals is prominent. To its left, there's a smaller flower with a spiral center. Above the central flower, there's a large, multi-petaled flower. To the right, there's a flower with a grid-like pattern. The background is filled with various other floral and leaf patterns. A central text box is superimposed on the scene.
